AIRBOX®

TRAVELGEAR

CREATED IN SWEDEN

Modern simplicity. Durable and rugged functionality. Affordable.

The AIRBOX® brand is all about modern simplicity, durability, and rugged functionality. The values we are talking about are really fundamental ones that all of us can identify with.

Based just outside of Gothenburg on Sweden's west coast, AIRBOX® is a sister brand to EPIC Travelgear, and therefore is able to share much of the technological platform of the well-established brand.

Good honest values, great products, and a friendly team of real people standing behind them create a concept that we feel will most definitely enhance your travel experiences for many years to come.

Key elements that you can expect in every AIRBOX® product are:

- Hi-Tech Infused Core combined with clean and pragmatic design and Old-fashioned Quality and Durability.
- Robust chassis, framework and componentry but still lightweight total package.
- As all key components are replaceable, excellent after sales service for you as a user wherever you may be in the world.

All in all, the AIRBOX® brand is all about modern simplicity, durability, and rugged functionality, and offers great-looking products.

A classic:

The shell is made from easily recyclable 100% polypropylene. This material is known to be highly impact and fatigue resistant, but usually quite heavy. Our product's unique design manages to incorporate these advantages while still achieving a low weight. All the components are top-quality and smooth running. The wheels, and top- and side handles are high quality and ensuring low weight, high performance, and long life. You can expect a long service life from these. All key components can even be replaced if they become damaged or you wear them out.

Our latest development:

The shell is made of impact-resistant and recyclable Polypropylene plastic to be able to combine strength and low weight. The shell's unique structure, designed by AIRBOX, makes it rigid to withstand stress during check-in and travels but still achieve a low weight. All components are of the highest quality and designed to meet the requirements of strength, high performance and long life. All components can be easily replaced if they should be damaged during luggage handling or during normal wear and tear.
